Bordner has the potential for quality workmanship and product, but they rush the end of the project and don't always deliver.

The craftsmen worked well as an efficient team, a family of a father (with Bordner for 28 years), his sons and nephews.

One of the things I give them a lot of credit for, and this is a second time I have used them, is that I have a koi pond, and they took extreme measures to keep it safe, and I greatly appreciate that. It is quite a large size pond and comes next to the house. They had to use ladders, plywood, tarps, and scaffolding, and that was awesome.

The number one thing is communication with the customers, just like writing down the subject that's being fix, and then before leaving, go over the project that was discussed. That way the work will be done the first time instead of waiting for another week to finish up the project.

Bordner is a great company to work with. We would definitely use them again. They took the time to make sure I understood what they were doing and when they were going to do it.

Bordner was easy to work with on all fronts, met all of their timeline commitments, did what they said they would do, and addressed any concerns/feedback/punchlist items promptly and professionally. In comparison with past "major house project" experiences, this is one of the smoothest we have completed, which is why I am comfortable recommending Bordner for future projects.

The Bordner staff and crew did an outstanding job. They showed up early on the day scheduled and stayed late working, not wasting any time throughout the process. They did exactly what they said they would do and answered my questions in a friendly and professional manner.

The Bordner service experience is polished. Sales conversations are informative. Materials and workers show up on time. Everyone is pleasant, skilled and hard-working. At least, that was my experience. I love my new windows and siding.

All the folks we dealt with at Bordner were friendly and efficient. The sales person explained our options for materials and didn't pressure us to select anyone product. The work crew arrived on time, worked quickly and cleaned up after themselves each day. No trash in yard. at the end of each workday.

Overall, I am really pleased with the transformation of my house and what the project did. It looks like a new house. I am really pleased with the final product. I called Brian one night and he actually answered my call. I was expecting to leave a message. They were always really good about taking my calls and getting right back to me. Most companies don't do that.
